Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 29 August 2007.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Plahte et al. (US 6,993,360 B2, hereinafter "Plahte") in view of Mukherjee et al. (US 2004/0006808 A1, hereinafter "Mukherjee").

Regarding claims 1, 4, Plahte discloses a system for connecting a portable information equipment (PDA/Smartphone 108; col. 7, lines 61-66) and an extension telephone (PBX telephone 161), comprising:

an extension telephone system (PBX 102) connected to the extension telephone (PBX telephone 161); extension telephone connecting means (MBX Server 110) for connecting the portable information equipment (PDA/Smartphone 108) to the extension telephone system (PBX 102) through a virtual private network (col. 1, lines 37-38; col. 6, lines 49-52); and Voice over Internet Protocol connecting means (VoIP protocol is used to carry voice traffic over the data connection; col. 3, lines 51-60).

Plahte differs from claim 1 in that although it teaches providing access to a subscribing employee (col. 7, lines 9-11), it does not explicitly describe the connecting means performing an authentication of the portable information equipment. However, Mukherjee teaches the desirability of performing an authentication of a requesting subscriber (Figure 4A, step 412) prior to connecting the equipment to the VPN (Figure 4A, step 418; paragraphs 52-54). It would have been obvious to an artisan of ordinary skill to incorporate such authentication, as taught by Mukherjee, within the system of Plahte in order to restrict access to authorized subscribers, thus preserving a secure network.

Regarding claims 2, 5, although Plahte teaches mobile communication costs as including negotiated rates (col. 6, line 49), use of project codes to allocate costs to clients (col. 6, lines 53-56), lower telecommunications prices available to PBX-connected telephones (col. 20, lines 17-20), it does not specify a fee based on a quantity of VoIP communication. However, Mukherjee teaches billing for a session based on session time duration, bit-rate, bandwidth, etc (paragraph 66) such that it would have been obvious to an artisan of ordinary skill to determine the communication costs in Plahte based on a quantity of VoIP communication, as taught by Mukherjee.

Regarding claim 3, 6, PDA/Smartphone 108 can access the corporate directory, customer relations management database and native contact list (col. 17, lines 18-23).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-6 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
